Martin Rosendale, the CEO of the Maryland Tech Council hosts a weekly Zoom podcast and Q&A called “CapitalM ZoomCast Live”. The 90-minute episode is traditionally designed to give companies access to the Tech Council’s extensive network and statewide resources to navigate through operational challenges and to ask questions. On September 16th, we have partnered with Montgomery County Economic Development Corporation for an exciting episode, featuring an international audience on Doing Business in the USA. We will cover:

- Entering the Maryland, USA life science eco-system
Content will contain a broad Maryland overview and tips on how to engage with hospitals and federal labs, etc
- Introduction to Steven M. Walker, Senior Director, Global Marketing – Early Portfolio Strategy at GlaxoSmithKline. He is formerly Chief Business Officer of Biologics Consulting Group, a go-to consulting partner for companies seeking to bring products to market within the U.S. Steven brings extensive global experience in product development and creating commercial strategies to maximize market potential.
- Virtual Roundtable and Q&A with International CEO
We are pleased to present Murat Kalayoglu, the CEO of Cartesian Therapeutics. Murat is a foreign national working in cell and gene therapy who relocated his company from Boston to Montgomery County to tap into the unique industry eco-system that exists here.
